Commander's View

If it is scale, most likely one of us is involved with it. This newsletter features a lot of events that we as the Scale Squadron have planned and other flyers for other scale groups. Many of us will attend several other events as well. That means if your building, flying, competing or just hanging out, there will be plenty to do this year. I am encouraging you to broaden your scale scope and enjoy what there is and we have only covered a small portion of the activities that revolve around radio scale miniature aircraft. I just want to make you aware that if you are a new member or a regular one, the invitation is there to join us at anyone of these events and more particularly, the ones we sponsor as the Scale Squadron.

February Program

This month features a new product and technique for priming and matching paint colours to film coverings. A good friend, Kevin Gribben from Wings West RC has agreed to show us these cool products and how to actually apply them to aircraft parts. Kevin has prepared some pre-primed samples and will then match them to various colours of film covering.

How can you use this? If your latest scale ARF Warbird needs repaired, chances are you can patch, sand, prime and re-paint the damaged portion or recover and paint the cowl and wheel pants to match. Plus much much more.

I am sure you will enjoy this program as Kevin provides a thorough demonstration of the qualities of this technique. Check out the Wings West Website: <http://www.wingswestrc.com>

Rubber Powered Event

What are grown men doing with rubber powered airplanes? If you missed our first attempt at rubber power, it was a blast and we had a great time including the hotdogs and soft drinks. We had so much fun that it has become a Scale Squadron annual event. The flyer is in this newsletter so check it out. The event is Monday August 10, 2015, and replaces our regular meeting. How can you go wrong with that? The early heads up, give you plenty of time to build your entry and there are three classes so a beginner stands a chance too. The aircraft models that are this years selection are from Dumas and they have a lot of cool aircraft that you can build and enter.

Mike Greenshields is working on special pricing for those entering the event. So in the meantime look at their catalogue online. Just scroll down to the airplane photo and dream. You can actually click on the link here in the newsletter and it will take you directly to the Dumas Website. <http://www.dumasproducts.com/index.php>

Websites:

You can now click on any website mentioned in the newsletter and it will now go to that website. It is called Hyperlinks, but rather than go technical on you, try it out and it works. As an example, here are a few more to try out:

The Scale Squadron website:
www.scalesquadron.com

The National Association of Scale Aeromodelers
Great newsletter and membership application.
<http://www.nasascale.org>

United States Scale Masters Championships Association
If your into scale and competition there is a ton of good information here including the membership application.
<http://www.uscscmasters.org>

In the future we will include website links as much as possible. These links will be on the Scale Squadron Website too. This will place information at your fingertips without having to search online.

I hope you enjoy the new feature.

I also look forward to seeing all of you at the meeting Monday night for our Wings West RC program.

Sam

THE "UN-CONTEST"

SCALE COMPETITION WORKSHOP

Presented by the Scale Squadron of Southern California

Date: MARCH 14, 2015      Cost: FREE!

OCMA'S BLACK STARR FLYING FIELD

(www.flyocma.com for field information and driving directions)

SEMINAR SCHEDULE: 8AM      SIGNUP OPENS

9:30AM
INTRO TO SCALE
STATIC COMP TIPS

10:30AM
FLIGHT-PREP
JUDGED FLYING

The Un-Contest is an event designed to help modelers interested in scale competition learn the basics of scale competition, both the static and flight components. For experienced scale competitors this is your chance to hone your skills, get some flight judging practice with experience scale competition judges, and share information about what works and what doesn't in scale competition.

Unsure what scale competition is all about? This is your chance to learn the basics in a stress-free, cost-free, relaxed environment.

Requirements:

Static Competition Seminar: Just come out and listen or participate if you'd like. If you have a plane that you'd like help with maximizing your static scores, bring it!

Flying Competition Seminar: You can just listen-in or bring a plane AND your AMA card (must be an AMA member to fly) and we'll walk you through a scale competition flight, judge it, and help you learn how to increase your flight scores!

Participants and visitors may be required to sign a property management liability waiver.

Questions? Visit our website or contact us: www.scalesquadron.com

Don't Forget!!!:

AMA Card Req'd to Fly
Fire Extinguisher Req'd to Fly
Bring Your Own Chair
No Turbines Allowed
OCMA Rules Enforced

OCMA REPORT Orange County Modelers Association

by Ed Woodson
Scale Squadron Delegate

At the last OCMA Board meeting on January 20, 2015 President Tim Cardin and Treasurer Greg Stone reported that the transfer of our field from the Irvine Company to the County of Orange was made in late December.

It appears the Parks and Recreation commission will be given control of the site. Both Tim and Greg felt this was good news since it seems our use of the site fits well with the goals of the Parks and Recreation folks. We are still looking for some "official" document that expresses our ability to be the sole users of the site but that may be forthcoming later, we hope.

As far as the condition of the field is concerned it appears the rains did not help things as the dampness caused parts to "peel off" so handle with care especially on the runway. No more "stickiness" since that seems to have been a problem caused by the hot days with direct sunlight.

President Tim Cardin will be sending out emails to all members (which you probably have already received by now) reminding everyone to renew their membership as new keys will be issued for the new lock on the gate.

Those new keys will be passed out at the mandatory rules meetings to be held at 9 am on February. 1 and 7 at the field.

If you missed the February 1 meeting you can still make the Saturday February 7 meeting at the OCMA Field at 9:00am. Remember, this safety meeting is a mandatory meeting so that you can fly this year.

You only have to attend one of the safety meetings at which time a "safety sticker" will applied to your badge. You cannot fly at the field without this sticker.

If you have already received your 2015 membership badge, bring it to the meeting so your sticker can be applied. Also bring your key from last year so it can be exchanged.

There is a stiff fee for lost keys so hang onto your new key!

If you are not a member yet, go to the website at <http://flyocma.com>

You can download the membership application PDF File and bring it to the meeting with your check for the 2015 membership.

December 14, 2015

Scale Squadron January Meeting Photos

Our members and their scale activities...this is what we do.....

Larry Wolfe shows the progress on a joint project he and Sam Wright tackled. A 72" F9F Panther. This is the start of the fuselage plug. The Panther will be set up for EDF (Electric Ducted Fan) Turbines can be installed as well with the correct plumbing.

A photo of the horizontal stab plug (left) and the actual vacuum bag part on the right. The stab features all the panel lines. The entire project has been scaled exactly to the full size Panther at the Yanks Air Museum

Larry Klingberg shows his latest all scratch built project. This is a 1/3rd scale Fairchild FC2. Built in 1927 and has a 12' wingspan. Larry's work is really too nice to cover up!

A good close up of Larry's construction for the tail group. Larry cuts the wood and works from plans and sometimes sketches since a lot of the information and documentation is not available.

Mike Greenshields shows off the new Hobby People F82 patterned after Col. Robert E. Thackers "Betty Jo" which is in the US Air Force Museum. This is a VQ ARF, with a wingspan of 79". Comes with fixed gear, but HP has optional electric retracts for it. Can be powered with Twin 60-70 Four Strokes, or two of the Hobby People G-46 Electric System with 4-5S 4500 to 6500mAh Li-Po Batteries.

Commander Sam Wright pontificating obviously something important. The squadron Treasure Tim Cardin on the right. All kidding aside our meetings are awesome and if you are missing them please join us for a fun evening with coffee & cookies too! The meetings are lively and well attended and the feature is the Show & Tell where we enjoy all of the scale projects underway or completed.

Anand Patel (left) at the Battle of the Builders for the RCX show last year with his Fiesler Storch and authentic German pilot hat and shirt. He is a dedicated scale flyer and loves playing the part.

(Right Photo) Anand presented a video of his trip to India to fly for the Prince at his private air strip and lake. Anand was an invited guest and stayed at the palace. His trip was fascinating and the photos he showed proved it to be something he will never forget. Be sure to ask him about the trip.

Scale Judging Maneuvers

#2 in a Series of what the judges are looking for.

Taken from the U.S. Scalemasters 2014 Competition Guide

This is a great maneuver for a Golden Age, Civilian, or Vintage aircraft to execute. It is graceful and a nice maneuver. If you are new to competition, as easy as it looks, there are certain elements that the judges are looking for. Read the context below taken directly from the revised 2014 Scale Masters Competition Guide.

8.8 360 Degree Descending Circle at constant low throttle setting

.1 Commencing from straight and level flight, the model aircraft performs a gentle 360 degree descending circle in a direction away from the judges at a constant low throttle setting. The maneuver terminates at a height between 10 and 20 feet resuming straight and level flight on the same path.

Errors: rate of descent not constant. Descent too steep. Throttle not constant or low enough. Circle misshapen. No significant loss of height. Descent not to a level of 10 or 20 feet. Circle not centered on judge's position. Entry and exit paths not parallel with judges line. Too far away or too close.
