MERRY CHRISTMAS AND HAPPY NEW YEAR!

SAM WRIGHT, COMMANDER

Commander's Article

December, no way! How can it be the last month of the year? I suspect the rapid furry of months means we have had just too much fun with our great scale modeling hobby, and for some this is a sport. I don't think that is all bad as long as everything else is fine as well.

We are unique in our driven passion to miniaturize scale aviation and in some cases not so miniature. But, I have to ask, what is wrong with that picture? Absolutely nothing other than I personally wish I had more time to build everything on my bucket list. I am sure a lot of you are in the same situation. Everything is fine with the project I am involved with until I see something else. That's just not fair but so much fun.

So, in review, it doesn't matter what aspects of our scale passion you are involved in, enjoy the parts you enjoy and we will enjoy it with you.

I am thankful for a wonderful vear as your Commander and the tremendous dedication from all of you in our events and functions we attend. If you enjoyed the ride, I am at the helm again for 2015 as your Commander. My leadership policy is to listen to our members and move in the direction that works for all of you. That means I am open to suggestions, ideas, and programs, so please don't be shy, email or call me, I will be glad to hear your ideas. In the meantime I want to wish you and your families a wonderful Christmas Holiday, and hope to meet your significant others at our annual Christmas Party this coming Monday. Please be sure to contact Ed Woodson as this is a mandatory RSVP. That is so we can plan enough food and refreshments for everyone attending. The flyer for the party is in this newsletter with Ed's contact. information.

As your Commander for those that attended the November meeting, we all decided to not exhibit at the AMA Expo this year. The reasons are many, but the most significant one is the cost as opposed to what we take in with our raffle. That does not mean we won't exhibit next year, but this year we will stand down and you can enjoy the show at your leisure without any booth time commitments. When we were in charge of the scale judging our booth or booths were provided at no charge that changed when the California Scale Modelers took that over. We were asked to judge this year under their organization, and we declined unless it would be solely under the Scale Squadron Banner.

While I am giving you all the secrets and not so good news, we presented the PVMAC with our two dates in June 2015 for the Warbirds and Classics Scale Event. The PVMAC Board of Directors canceled our event, we are told, based on two things: 1. The fact that they believed we owned OCMA and thus had our own flying field and 2. PV-MAC is no longer sharing/renting their field to non-PVMAC activities. I must tell you that no conversation was exchanged to verify our participation with OCMA. As the Commander, and our board, we are extremely disappointed in this decision. While this seriously impacts our only fund-raiser for the year, we are optimistic that we have an opportunity to host an event at OCMA. It may not possess the grandeur of Prado, but then again all those details are not yet refined, and may be more than we all imagined it could be. With this being only December, we will approach the OCMA Board with our request after the first of the New Year.

At our last count over 50% of the Scale Squadron members are members of PVMAC including myself. As a PVMAC member and your Commander, I cannot express how disappointed I am with PV-MAC board. Incidentally, I was not contacted with the news and it was directed to Mike Greenshields. We as your board had originally decided to attend the PVMAC board meeting this month to plead for our event. We were pretty much convinced that the restrictions on the field use would be too extreme for us to operate a successful event. As a result, we voted not to attend the PVMAC board meeting.

You now know what we know which isn't much, but the fact remains we will be looking at other avenues to hold our successful Warbirds and Classic event. Mike Greenshields remains our Program Director and now our Executive Officer (Vice President), so I feel we are in good hands and remain optimistic on the outcome for 2015. I hope you join me in that belief and support.

Your new board of directors remains the same with only a few exceptions. Randy Wilbur's farm activities do not allow him the time he would like to spend with us. Chris Greenshields, who did an outstanding job with the Scale Squadron newsletter, as Editor, is swamped with his college curriculum and we are actively searching for a newsletter editor. I did the newsletter for 18 years of the Scale Squadron's existence and will do so until we recruit a new person. If anyone is interested and has experience with Adobe Creative Suite, please contact me.

The board remains as follows with Ed Woodson as Secretary, Tim Cardin as Treasurer, and members at large, Larry Wolfe, Scott White and Ed McCormick. Ed and Scott are new blood and that is encouraging as that always help to bring new ideas to the table for our membership.

I so look forward to seeing you all that sent Ed Woodson your RSVP for the Christmas Party this coming Monday. This is a party and no meeting, minutes or show and tell. This is your party for members only exclusively for you and your significant other. Please be sure to RSVP as we will not be able to accommodate walk-ins or nonmembers.

Blue Skies ahead,

Sam

November Meeting and Presentation

Greg Shultz – Mold Making Techniques

Greg presented mold-making techniques, samples, and presented all the equipment needed to make duplicates of small items. So, carve it once, make all the copies you need! The process is simple and shockingly quick! He molded a part during the meeting! Presentation including materials information, class information (the company offers classes on how to use the materials!), and even a projector with images from their website.

The November meeting also included information on making static scale propellers by Larry Klingberg and Auto-Gyro setup and flying techniques from Wayne Spani.

Show-n-tell featured a big 72" Panther Fuselage from Ziroli plans. Larry Wolfe and Sam Wright are working on a plug to make a fuselage mold for this great flying jet that is at home with electric as it is with a turbine.

Tim Cardin was too shy to toot his own horn, but we will. The table full of awards were ALL won by Tim at the 1/8th Air Force event in October! Way to go TIM!

Thank you to everyone who attended, to those who presented, to our guests, and everyone who renewed their membership or signed up new for 2015!

Welcome new and returning members!
